CLEVELAND AND DEMOCRATIC PROTECTIONISTS.

The question before the democratic councils in this city of '89, is about a rally which shall cause the two wings of the democratic party to flap together when another presidential election comes around. There are some democrats who are reckless, and pretend that they would rather have Cleveland and defeat than Randall and victory. And so there are some wiser heads at work who want victory even if the democratic party is compelled to bury Cleveland in the national convention. They want a rallying of all the democratic forces, and a platform that will mean free trade in the south and protection in Pennsylvania and New England. When a few of the Randall men got together to discuss the question of this kind of a rally, they sang this song—

It's looking blue for '92,
This awful heavy weather,
There's just one thing we've got to do—
We all must get together;
The lion with the lamb must fuse,
Free trade and protection;
Or else we're mighty sure to lose
That fateful next election!

CHORUS.
We'll must get together,
We'll must get together,
It's looking blue for '92,
We all must get together.

After singing this stanza they got onto another in which there are some cold facts and a strong argument—

Wash Waterman no more must claim
That Dana's but a vandal,
Or call by every shocking name
His brother Samuel Randall;
Stout fighters they, we can't expect
They'll show the mean white feathers,
Still each of them must recollect
We've got to get together!

Chorus.
The spirit of the Cleveland faction which wants him and free trade or defeat, is commented on in the following manner by the New York Sun:

Nothing is more comical than the peculiar ardor of some of our free-trade. Here, for instance, is the Omaha Herald, declaring that "there are democrats by the hundred thousand who prefer to suffer honest defeat with Grover Cleveland and tariff adjustment, than achieve power" in any other way.

Well, that may be the sentiment of some cranks in the off season; but we notice that when a real election is at hand, the masses of the democracy have a sincere preference for victory, and for a candidate and platform that will mean victory. Besides, they have no use for a pharisee like Cleveland. They have tried him, and they don't want him any more.

But some of the free trade journals, the Courier Journal, the Philadelphia Record, and the St. Louis Republic still insist that there can be no coming together of the Randall and the Cleveland men, and this stubborn newspaper are tendered another stanza of the democratic rally song—

Democracy, Democracy,
'Tis sore defeat has taught her
Her hostile factions must agree,
The oil must mix with water;
To make the oil and water mix,
Let each one strain his tether
We're in a most confounded fix—
We've got to get together!

ASKING TOO MUCH.

The annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union was held at Oshkosh during the past week. The convention was well attended, and of course its spirit was largely controlled by the presence of Miss Frances Willard, who lectured before the union on the "White Shield and White Cross work." The W. C. T. U. has lost much of its influence for effective temperance work by chasing the visionary ideas and impracticable methods of the third party. The latter has not only inflicted harm upon itself, but it has likewise done much to rob the W. C. T. U. of its strength. Among the resolutions adopted at the annual convention was one which reads as follows:

Resolved, That as Christian temperance union women we do earnestly protest against all license and the establishing of revenue or systematized effort of any sort to protect and foster the manufacture, sale and use of liquor, tobacco and opium, and the further development by any governmental protection of vice in our land.

have been that of the Presbyterian general assembly in New York, which adopted the following wise resolution:

Resolved, That we hereby reiterate the deliverance of former assemblies upon this whole subject, and express our warm sympathy with the widespread popular movement now in progress in favor of the complete suppression of the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and we bid all wise and proper methods to secure this issue a hearty God speed.

There is promise in a resolution of this kind, and the W. C. T. U. should have caught its spirit, and thereby have strengthened its influence for good.

ANOTHER CITY IN RUINS.

Before the people have recovered from their surprise over the Conemaugh valley calamity, there comes from the west the intelligence that another city has been almost wiped out of existence—this time by fire. At three o'clock on Thursday afternoon a fire broke out in the business portion of Seattle Washington territory, and the flames were not staid until desolation covered the spot where a prosperous city of 25,000 once stood. Every newspaper office, hotel, telegraph office, railway depot, what, went to ashes. Thirty-one business blocks, including many residences, were consumed by the flames. It takes out existence every important business block in the city, and destroys nearly ten million dollars worth of property. Of course such a visitation without bringing with it great suffering and utter desolation. The Seattle conflagration, like the Chicago fire in 1871, robbed hundreds of people of all they had on earth, except their lives. To be sure, the present necessities of life will be furnished such unfortunate, but in a business point of view they will be forced to begin life anew.

New York and its immediate environs added $100,000 on Wednesday to their contributions for the sufferers by the floods in Pennsylvania, bringing the total well up above $400,000. Philadelphia has opened its generous heart to the amount of $500,000, and contributions from towns and cities innumerable in all parts of the country keep pouring in. Nothing like an accurate estimate of the total amount can be made at present, but it must be close to, if it does not exceed, $1,500,000. As nothing like the death-dealing flood of last week has ever been known in this country before, so the Nation's response to the cry of distress has been wholly without precedent.

Mr. William O. Gilbert, of Wansan, who has just taken the place of Governor Parker, on the state board of supervision, is a young man of superior ability. For several years he has been connected with the lumbering interests of that section of the state, and when appointed to his present position was deputy treasurer of Marathon county. It would be difficult to find in the northern part of the state, or in any other part of the state for that matter, a more promising young business man than Mr. Gilbert. He is a staunch democrat in politics, and the petition for his appointment contained the names of the foremost members of his party in the state.

Senator Dan Voorhees sent the striking coal miners in Indiana $20 and an argument on the tariff. Why does he not send the Johnstown sufferers $100, and show that under a system of free trade the catastrophe would not have happened—Chicago Journal.

Does the Journal ever remember when such men as Voorhees were consistent?

"I am weary of living," moaned poor Mrs. Black.
"For I am fairly worn out with the ache in my back."
"Of nervousness and pain,"
And my poor head is aching as if it would burst."
"Now, don't be discouraged," cried good Mrs. White.
"It is never so dark but there's promise of light."
"I can tell you, in brief,"
"What will give you relief—"
"Pierce's Favorite Prescription will soon set you right."

It is the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists under positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper. Large bottles (100 doses) $1. Six for $5.

Speech.

The transition from long, lingering and painful illness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, so the use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the kidneys, liver or stomach, of long standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50¢ and $1 per bottle at F. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

MEN AND MONEY NEEDED.

THE PRESENT SITUATION AT JOHNSTOWN.

One Correspondent Makes an Estimate of Only 4,000 Lives Lost—Dangers of an Epidemic Increasing.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 8.—Money and men are the two things needed here. The work of clearing the wreck is being prosecuted with great activity, and about ten thousand men are already engaged. More are being sent, and more are pouring in. So large a community as this, wholly unable to supply itself, must be assisted to provisions or the means for their purchase. The relief trains are still depositing great loads of food and clothing, the latter now being superfluous, and the commissary is continuously thronged by rich and poor alike. Many women have been shipped out to the homes of friends elsewhere and no longer share the deprivations.

Twenty-two hundred bodies have so far been recovered, of which not more than two-thirds were identified. It is my opinion that the majority of the lost are found, although hundreds doubtless still lie beneath the wreckage and in the sands of the streams. I feel confident that history will not ascribe to this disaster the loss in excess of "about four thousand souls." That is an awful roster, and what is the morbid scene that delights to expand it?

The Financial Loss.
Approaching the subject of financial loss, it is fair to begin with the assumption that one-half the destruction occurred to Johnstown proper. That is very liberal, for, although whole villages aggregating many more houses were wiped out, the city's structures, institutions, and improvements were much more costly. The assessed valuation recently completed was about $8,000,000. Inquiries made into the character and method of assessment in Johnstown convince me that it would be the liberal thing to double the figures.

The Weekly Trade Review.
New York, June 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The flood disasters have entirely changed the situation in the eastern lumber trade, the coal, iron, and steel trades. Producing companies of the first importance have suddenly ceased operations, and their orders must be filled by others or delayed. The flooding of many coal mines and supplies of fuel for many manufacturing works, and the stoppage of the Cambria mill and furnaces, which produced yearly over 300,000 tons of iron in various forms, will affect the trade for some time. The destruction of more than forty bridges, about half of them on the Pennsylvania railroad, besides many locomotive cars, and miles of track, creates a sudden demand which is felt in all iron and steel markets.

Michigan Sons of Veterans.

St. Joseph, Mich., June 8.—The annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans of Michigan closed here Friday, having been in progress four days. Over fifty camps participated. Camp 14, Grand Rapids, won the first prize, $25, for best uniform and drilled camp. Camp 55, Battle Creek, won the second prize. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Colonel, F. W. Williams, Grand Rapids; lieutenant-colonel, F. M. Gier, Pittsburg; major, F. C. Stillson, Battle Creek; M. J. Davis, Hillsdale; J. C. Schuler, St. Joseph. Adj. J. F. Watson reports 125 camps in the State, with a total enrollment of 2,825.

Indignant People Attack the Houses of South Fork Club Men.

JOHNSTOWN, June 8.—This community is in a wild state of excitement as a result of the recent flood. The blame of the entire affair has been placed upon the South Fork Hunting and Fishing club, and so angry are some of the people in this vicinity that trouble is feared for W. S. Boyer, superintendent, at the cottages on the lake. Already several of the pretty villas have been broken into by marauders and the furniture demolished. The boats owned by the club have been stolen in broad daylight and reduced to kindling wood by the infuriated crowd. The men who broke into the cottages have not been discovered. It is evident robbery was not intended.

SICKNESS AT JOHNSTOWN.

Danger of a Terrible Epidemic Daily Increasing.
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 8.—The day opened warm and almost dry, and the odor that assails one's senses as he wanders through Johnstown is almost overpowering. Sickens in spite of the precautions and herculean labors of the sanitary authorities, is on the increase, and the fears of epidemic grow with every hour.

Wool-Growers Pass a Resolution.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 8.—The Texas Wool association yesterday passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we commend the action of the Secretary of the Treasury in his recent rulings on wool, and do most emphatically urge upon him the importance of such a careful discrimination of all such as may be imported for wool manufacturers' uses. We desire to see the wool product of America exceed the wants of our manufacturers, but as long as these importations of wools are permitted, or clothing wool is allowed to come in under the classification of carpet wool, it will be almost a matter of impossibility for the grower in this country to command such a price for his product as will justify the speedy development of the wool industry in the United States."

An Important School Board Committee Meeting.

MORE PAY FOR TEACHERS.

A General Advance Decided Upon at Last Evening's Session.

A general advance in the salaries of Jansville teachers was agreed upon by the school board committee last evening. The committee, consisting of Com. Kniff, Fetters and Smith will report to the school board on Monday evening that the salaries now paid should be increased from twenty to thirty dollars a year before the new list is made out.

A proposition was made that the increase in salary be extended to the superintendent's office as well. It was suggested that the salary be placed at seventeen hundred dollars instead of at fifteen hundred, but the idea was not adopted, it being argued that the Jansville salary was as high as that paid in most of the cities in the state for the same work.

One of the first propositions brought before the meeting last evening was that the salaries be changed by giving the primary teachers five dollars a month additional and increasing other salaries likewise. It was soon shown that the surplus in the school fund would hardly be sufficient for such an increase, and it was decided hereafter to compute salaries by the year, and to make the increase as already stated. Heretofore the pay has been $380 a year in grammar rooms, $342 a year in intermediate rooms, and $285 a year in the primaries, five dollars a month additional being allowed teachers who are also principals of buildings.

The increase in salaries will be regarded by all who are interested in the Jansville schools as an excellent move. The standard of the schools can be much better maintained, and those who labor have done so much toward placing Jansville's educational matters where it now stands, will be encouraged to make renewed effort.

—A counterfeit ten dollars bill that is likely to prove dangerous in circulation can be easily detected, however, as the engraving of Andrew Jackson is poor. One which was offered at a hotel is described as representing "Old Hickory" with a broken nose, and wearing an expression of having been badly done up at a prize fight.

—Charges have been preferred before the Fond du Lac Bar Association against Henry J. Gerphsida, well known in this city. He is alleged to have assisted Emma Schmiedel, a defendant in a criminal prosecution for larceny, to escape from custody. It is alleged that

A FRUITLESS SEARCH.

Ben Miller Leads His Bondsman to a Merry Chase.

THE DIG FOR SOLID COIN.

But Realize After Two Hours That They Have Been Victimized.

When the three men who took Ben Miller on his Woodstock excursion came back through this city, their faces were unusually solemn. By representing that he had $12,500 buried in the ground at Woodstock, Illinois, Miller persuaded them, in consideration of his giving them $1,000 of the hidden treasure, to give bonds for his safe return to the Green county sheriff and go with him to Woodstock to dig up the money. The party went to the place designated and after digging about two hours, it suddenly dawned upon them that they were the victims of misplaced confidence, and that the object Miller had was to get a chance to give them the slip.

The bondsmen had prepared for this, however, and had letters to Woodstock officials. They assured Miller that if he refused to go back with them to Wisconsin he would be left in jail in Illinois. Miller decided that Wisconsin was rather the better of the two, and came back with little objection. Monroe people are now indulging in the broadest kind of a grin over the gullibility of the citizens who permitted themselves to be victimized.

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

E. O. KIMBERLY TELLS OF THE BUCHANAN COMEDY COMPANY.

The question has been asked as to what I know about the Buchanan Comedy Company, who are to be here all of next week. Much can be said in their favor. Many years have passed since I first knew the Buchanan family. The four brothers were always known as musical prodigies. In connection with their wonderful abilities as musicians, they have of late years been ardent admirers and successful practitioners of the drama. The result of their efforts in this particular line has been gratifying to them and their many friends alike. With conscientious management on the part of Mr. Robert Buchanan, the company have everywhere gained an enviable reputation. Talent of the finest order is always required both in a dramatic and musical point of view. Mr. Buchanan travels in his own elegant private car. No matter what the existing circumstances, Mr. Buchanan has proven himself to be a man of his word, consequently everything must be as advertised, and naught but positive decorum must reign in and about his fine company. Their band and orchestra should be heard by all lovers of artistic music. Mr. Robert Buchanan on the violin and Edgar on the cornet will rank among the very best in this or any other country. The manager's violin solos, which are made a specialty every evening, are alone worth the price of admission. Knowing the Buchanans well, and in view of the fact that there are so many poor organizations of the kind about, the writer of this discharges a voluntary and yet pleasant duty in thus holding them up favorably to the Jansville public. E. O. KIMBERLY.

HE KNOWS THE WORLD.

THE VARIED ADVENTURES OF A THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD TRAMP.

Edgar Turner, a thirteen-year-old boy who has been around this city for several days past was picked up by the police in Milwaukee last night. He went from this city to Milwaukee in a box car and has travelled all over the United States from New York to Mexico. Turner says that he was taken from a reformatory in New York to be located on a farm in Colorado. However, he ran away from his western home, and after knocking around in the far west for a time made his way east as far as Rock Plains, Ill., where he settled down with another farmer. Two weeks ago he started on another tramp, and was much disgusted at having his travels interrupted. Superintendent Whitehead, of the humane society, will endeavor to secure a home for him with some farmer. The boy is a hardy, merry little chap, seedy as a tramp, and brown as a berry.

ON THE RIVER WITH WHEELS.

A NEW WATER BI-CYCLE TRIED ON ROCK RIVER.

It was just after dark when out from the head of the race shot a ghastly something that left behind it a wake of white bubbles. A bicycle, with paddles fastened around the rim of the driving wheel and with a wooden screen extending from the saddle to the water on each side—all this it was but it was more. It floated over the water apparently with nothing but the tires under water, and on the saddle sat Charles E. Green, known last year for his experience on the night wire.

Back and forth across the race way the ghastly vehicle skimmed. Then a snag floated down stream. It had no regard for scientific experiment, and it lay directly across the bicycle's course. A moment later there was a collision. Professor Gunn was struggling in the water, the bicycle was upside down and on the surface floated two long cylinders that drew to a point at either end. They furnished for the experiment an explanation. On the air cylinders had been mounted the "wheel," enough support being given so that the machine was kept above water and the paddles along the tire allowed to go just below the surface. The wheel was finally placed right side up again, and noteworthy exhibitions are expected soon.

DRIFFINGS ON A WET DAY.

J. A. DENNISTON—There ought to be something done to provide the first ward with ample school facilities. There are too many of the little ones that have to cross the tracks and go to the Central. It wouldn't be a bad idea to build a separate school house for the primaries—there would be enough to fill it. Dr. Palmer suggests buying the hospital in case the hospital association decides to build, and I can't see why the suggestion isn't a good one.

WHERE IS THE RUB?

A DISPUTE ABOUT THE CORN PUZZLE SEEMS LIKELY.

Most of the answers to the corn puzzle published last night came in to-day thus: The landlady would lose 1-5 bushels by such an arrangement, as the rent would entitle him to 2-5 of the 18. The tenant should give 18 bushels from his own share after the division is completed, otherwise the landlady would receive but 2-7 of the first 63 bushels.

A gentleman rented a farm and contracted to give to the landlady one-fifth of the produce, but prior to the time of dividing the corn the tenant used forty-five bushels. When the general division was made, it was proposed to give to the landlady eighteen bushels from the heap in lieu of his share of the forty-five bushels which the tenant had used, and then to begin and divide the remainder as though none had been used. Would this method have been correct.

After the answer first given had been been thoroughly discussed, a first ward mathematician telephoned:

"What's the matter with you fellows? Slipped a cog, didn't you? That answer to the problem is way off. Get your mathematical machine oiled up. Consequently the puzzle is still open."

FOR THE FLOOD SUFFERERS.

A BENEFIT CONCERT AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH ON WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Mrs. Lizzie Bintliff is busily engaged in arranging a benefit concert in aid of the flood sufferers in Pennsylvania, to be given on Wednesday evening of next week at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Bintliff is taking hold of this entertainment with much enthusiasm, and her efforts should be crowned with success. All the singers and musicians who have been approached have signified their willingness to assist. The church trustees have kindly donated the use of the church for this occasion, and it is sincerely hoped that the concert will be liberally patronized. The detailed programme will be commenced in a few days.
